THE SULTAN YIELDS

Will Permit Miss Barton To Distribute Relief to Armenians.

MR. TERRELL'S EFFORTS SUCCESSFUL

Another Letter Received in This Country Telling of the Terrible Sufferings of Christians at the Hands of · the Bloodthirsty Kurds.

Constantinople, Feb. 11.—The representative of the United Press learns that the Hon. A. W. Terrell, the American minister, has procured for Miss Clara Barton and her assistants, who are now enroute for this city, the sultan's safeguard, which will allow them to visit the six distressed provinces of Anatolia and personally distribute relief among the sufferers.

Work of the Barbarous Kurds,

Philadelphia, Feb. 11.- The denial of the stories by the porte that Armenians are being given the choice of accepting Islamism or death would seem to be again refuted by undeniable evidence. H. M. Siraganian, who recently learned of the murder of his father, the Rev. M. Siraganian, a Baptist missionary, and thirteen relatives, by Kurds and Turks, yesterday received a letter from his son at Arabkis. This letter is dated Jan. 13, and is as follows: "We have wept already on the misery of our country. You also read, and think, and weep. The barbarous Kurds suddenly attacked us. Those of us who could walk escaped to the mountains, with the hope of saving our lives, as we had no means to protect ourselves in other ways. For four days we wandered in the rocky hills that surround our villages, hungry, thirsty, naked and unprotected. After four days we went back to our homes filled with awe and anxiety. but, alas, there was not even left a dry loaf of bread or a handful of tiour or a piece of carpet. They had carried away everything; however, our misery did not end with this. Our enemies did not give us time enough to mourn our lost property, and, above all, our wronged honor. They came back after two days with double forces and burned down all the houses left unburned.

Forced To Accept Islamism.

"I am unable to describe all the particulars of it because after seeing that bloody scene I have lost reason and everything. Dear father, your thristian son is now a Mohammedan (nay, by name only), as they forced us to accept their religion as a means of salvation. My name is Mohammed Zeki H you ever write to me please address me in that name, or I will never get your letter. We have no bread to eat, no home to live in, but that gives us no more pain than to see our church robbed of all its glory and made a mosque of. In-tead of the ringing of the bells we hereafter will hear the voice of Imam (Turkish minister), and instead of psalms and hallelujahs the praises of Mohammed. Blessed are those who are dead. They were more fortunate than we are. We also will die, while there seems to be no mercy in this world. We will die, but alas, they will even decline a little space near our forefathers in the church pard. Mohammedan priests will say prayers upon our graves. Think, dear father, about our condition. Accept your son's salutation. Perhaps it is the

LOOKING TO IMPEACHMENT. Charges Preferred Against the Prosecutor of Bergen County, N. J.

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 11.-A commurication reached the legislature last night through Senator Daly of Hudson, which has for its object, no doubt, the impeachment of Peter W. Stagg, the prosecutor of the pleas of Bergen county. Senator Daly had the communication referred to the judiciary committee. The communication is from John G. Kehoe, a resident of Lyndhurst, Bergen county. He charges Prosecutor Stagg with having corruptly and criminally disregarded his duty in not having prosecuted certain persons for high crimes and misdemeanors and with having cruelly and inhumanely prosecuted certain other persons for light crimes. Kehoe charges that Stagg prevailed upon Columns Randolph to plead guilty to an indictment for selling liquor without a license, using the threat that he had $10,000 of the state's money and would use it to conviet him. On sentence day Rundolph apprised the court of the threat and he alleges was allowed to retract his plea. In July last, he continues, a man named Hoffman was robbed and sandbagged by two men. The prosecutor refused to take the assailants before their victim and he died, and now, since they cannot be identified, it is impossible to convict them. Kehoe also accused Stagg of having approached him while he was a member of the grand jury to have certain men indicted. Other serious charges are preferred against Stagg in the document.

TO EXTEND RECIPROCITY. An Effort To Get Rid of Our Surplus

Agricultural Product ..

Washington, Teb. 11 -The house committee on accounts has decided to recommend the passage of the resolution presented by Mr. Tawney, rep., Minn., authorizing the committee on ways and means to investigate the reciprosity question. The inquiry will be rendreted by a sub-committee headed by Mr. Tawney which may employ an expert. The scope of the inquiry is outlined in the resolution, which recites that it is desirable to extend the export of surplus agricultural and manufactured products of the United States to foreign countries, and that in certain countries the importation of these products is restricted by discriminating duties: therefore, the committee on ways and means is directed to report in what countries such restrictions are in force. the causes alleged therefor, their effect upon our foreign commerce as relating to the trade resulting from the conmercial agreements with foreign countries entered into after October 30, 1890 (under the Blaine reciprocity treaties).

PAYING FOR BONDS VENEZUELAN AFFAIR

Nearly $9,000,000 Deposited at | Salisbury and Balfour Prepare a New York Sub-Treasury.

GOLD RECEIVED FOR EXAMINATION

Explanation of the Story Regarding the Rejection of Certain Deposits-The Treasury Not an Annex for a Bullion Broker's Office.

New York, Feb. 11.-The deposits of gold in the sub-treasury up to this morning in payment for bonds amount to $5.749.524.15. In addition considerable gold has been deposited for examination. The report that the sub-treasury had rejected gold arose in this way: For some time past a bullion broker on Wall street has been turning in legal tenders for gold and selling the gold at a premium. Yesterday afternoon he presented $500,000 in legal tenders and withdrew the same amount of gold. Five hundred thousand dollars were immediately turned into the bond department. On the second transaction of $300,000 he secured the gold in bags and gave it to the clerks of the firms who had subscribed for the 4's, and who had accompanied him to the subtreasury. It was then that Assistant Treasurer Jordan objected to having the sub-treasury used as an annex to a bullion broker's office. The dealer in question made charges of favoritism against Mr Jordan, but the pith of his argument lies in the fact that he did not care to cart the gold from the subtreasury and then bring it back. Probably such a course would reduce the insignificant profit he secures by selling government gold drawn out through the agency of legal tenders.

DISTRIBUTION OF SEED.

Secretary Morton Replies to Senator Vest's Charges of Favoritism,

Washington, Feb. 11 .- Referring to the charge of Senator Vest that the secretary of agriculture had distributed 150,000 more packages of seed in Nebraska than that state was entitled to last year, Secretary Morton says: "Under the law one-third of the seed purchased was distributed by the secretary of agriculture. In accordance with that provision, some years ago when there was great suffering along the sea islands of the Carolina coast, the secretary of agriculture, through Cara Barton and the Red Cross. gave a great portion of the one-third of the seed which he was authorized to distribute to the people whose fields and gardens had been ruined by the tidal wave. As to that very large distribution of seed to those southern sufferers no complaint was made. Therefore, during the recent seasons of extreme drouth in the northwest the secretary of agriculture frankly confesses that he gave far more than the normal quota of seed to Nebraska, Kansas and each of the Dakotas and to Oklahoma."

Willing To Arbitrate the Question ci Territory Not Occupied by British Settlements - Anxiety To Close the Trouble.

London, Feb. 11.-No importance is attached to the absence from the queen's speech, read in the house of commons yesterday, of any reference to arbitration of the Venezuelan dispute. No experienced politician expected that any reference would be made to the subject, for the reason that the speech is never the vehicle of merely incipient developments. The representative of the United Press learns that Prime Minister Salisbury and the Right Hon. A. J. Balfour, first lord of the treasury, have prepared a carefully guarded statement, which they will make in the house of lords and house of commons early in the debate on the address in reply to the queen's speech affirming the willingness of the government to arbitrate the question of the territory that is not occupied by British settlements. Opinion in the National Liberal club grows every day more intense in favor of closing the dispute on any terms consonant with national honor. As the declarations of the ministers are not likely to be satisfactory to the liberals. It is believed that Sir William Vernon Harcourt, their leader in the house of commons, will move an amendment to the address affirming that arbitration of the boundary question ought to be accepted by Great Britain.

BOND AND TARIFF BILL.

Secator Quay Will Withdraw His Resolution To Disorce the Measures. Washington, Feb. 11 .- An arrangement, it is said, has been made in the senate whereby Mr. Quay is to withdraw his resolution to recommit the tariff bill, and the vote will be taken on the bill and substitute as it was reported to the senate by the committee. Mr. Morrill, chairman of the finance committee, has given notice that he will call the bill up to-morrow and seek to make it the unfinished business. Republicans have little fear of the free silver substitute being favorably acted upon, but they see no hope of the ultimate passage of the house bill or any other tariff provision. According to statements made this morning by a prominent republican member of the committee, thirteen or fourteen anti-silver democrats will vote against the free coinage substitute and all the silver republicans will vote against it. with the possible exception of Teller and Mantle. But when the tariff bill is thus divorced from the silver question, it is asserted that the combined vote of the democrats and populists will be east in favor of a motion to table the bill, and this may defeat it.

CLAIMANTS FOR STATEHOOD. House Committee To Vote on the New

committee on territories will take a vote to-morrow on the proposition to admit New Mexico and Arizona to statehood. When the matter came up last week, the opponents of statehood tried to table the proposition, but were defeated by a vote of seven to six. If the seven members of the committee who held together on the preliminary divisions vote to recommend statehood, the remaining six will present a strong minority report and take the contest into the house itself. The committee contains fifteen members, two of whom, Delegates Murphy and Catron, are not entitled to a vote. The six who have steadily voted against everything that looked towards statehood for the territories are Chairman Scranton. rep., Pa.; Knox. rep., Mass.: Low, rep., N. Y.; Hadley, rep., Ill.; Harrison. dem., Ala., and Taft. rep., O. These are all sound-money men. The members of the other faction are divided. politically-four republicans to three democrats. One of the democrats. Owens of Kentucky, is rated as on the fence. He is a sound-money man, and has hardly made up his mind on the question of admitting any more silver territories. There is a great deal of political playing in the committee, and those who are at heart most opposed to granting the enabling acts touch the question very gingerly in the meetings. PANIC AT MADRID.

An Aerolite Explodes and People Are Injured in a Stampede.

Madrid, Feb. 11.—A panie was caused in this city by the bursting of an aerolite. A shock like earthquake accompanied the explosion, which took place in the atmosphere, some distance from the city. The people in the suburbs of Madrid were also panicstricken by the explosion. The operatives in the factories, the children in the schools and the employes and others in the markets rushed into the streets in a wild stampede, believing that the world was about to be destroyed. Many of them threw themselves prone upon the ground and commended their souls to God, while others in a frenzy of terror rushed hither and thither crying upon the saints to save them. Many persons were injured in the aimless rushes by running into each other or by being thrown down and trampled upon. The shock of the explosion was so great in the city that it caused the collapse of one house, and threw down a partition wall in the building occupied by the American legation. The shock was strongly felt in Guadalajara, the province bounding the province of Madridon the northeast, and in other places. Among the superstitious the visit of the aerolite is believed to have been a dire portent.

MR. EDISON'S X-RAYS

Not Yet Ready for Photographing

the Brain.

THE WIZARD CONFIDENT OF SUCCESS

He Is Working Out a Plan Whereby the Rays Will Have Only One Thickness of Skull To Penetrate.

Orange, N. J., Feb. 11.-Thomas Edison is attempting to secure the best vacuum in the tubes which are to be used in his new method of photography. There is some doubt in his mind as to the degree of vacuum in the tubes that will produce the best results. He will not try to photograph the brain of a man until he is sure that he has decided upon the proper vacuum. He has decided to change his original plan for photographing the brain, and will have a special platcholder, two inches by two inches in size, which will be placed in the mouth of the subject, while the battery of tubes will be placed on top of the subject's head. In this way there will be only one thickness of skull for the X rays to go through Mr. Edison is confident of success. He has just secured some shadow photographs showing the rays passing through steel bars a half inch in thickness. He found that on substituting steel plates for the aluminum ones in the tubes no rays were developed, they being absorbed by the steel. Mr. Edison says that after making thorough experiments in photographing the human brain he will take up the question of the effect of the rays upon bacteria. He claims that the rays will retard the germination of bacilli, and believes that they wil' destroy them. He intends making an exhaustive series of experiments on this point.

THE POPE'S DAILY LIFE.

It Is Full of Occupation from Morning Till Night.

His Habits Are Much the Same as When He Was a Cardinal-Daily Mass in His Private Chapel-Every-Day Routine Work.

Marion Crawford, in an interesting article in the Century, says that in spite of his great age, the holy father enjoys excellent health, and leads a life full of occupations from morning till night. He has in no respect changed his habits since the time when he lived at Perugia as cardinal. He rises very early, and when at about six o'clock in the morning, his valet, Pio Centra, enters his little bedroom, be more often finds him risen than asleep. He is accustomed to sleep little-not more than feur or five hours at night, though he rests awhile after dinner. We are told that sometimes he has been found asleep in his chair by his writing-table at dawn, not having been to bed at all. Of late he frequently says mass in a chapel in his private apartments, and the mass is served by Pio Centra. On Sundays and feast days he says it in another chapel preceding the throneroom. The little chapel is of small dimensions, but by opening the door into the neighboring room a number of persons can assist at the mass. The permission, when given, is obtained on application to the "maestro di camera," aud is generally conceded only to distinguished foreign persons. After saying mass himself, the holy father immediately hears a second one, said by one of the private chaplains on duty for the week, whose business it is to take care of the altar and to assist. Frequently he gives the communion with his own hands to those who are present at his mass. After mass he breakfasts upon coffee and goat's milk, and this milk is supplied from goats lept in the vatican gardens—a reminiscence of Carpineto and of the mountaineer's early life.

Every day at about ten be received the secretary of state, Cardinal Rampolla, and converses with him for a good hour or more upon current affairs. On Tuesdays and Fridays the secretary of state receives the diplomatic corps in his own apartments, and on those days the under-secretary, Mgr. Rinaldini, confers with the pope in his chief's place. Cardinal Mario pope when he has business to expound. On the first and third Fridays of each month the moggiordomo, Mgr. della Volpe, is received, and so on, in order, the cardinal prefects of the several Roman congregations, the under-secretaries, and all others in charge of the various offices. In the papal antechamber there is a list of them, with the days of their audiences.

During the morning he receives the cardinals, the bishops "ad limina," ambassadors who are going away on leave or who have just returned, princes and members of the Roman nobility and distinguished foreigners.

At ten o'clock he takes a cup of broth brought by Centra. At two in the afternoon, or a little earlier, he dines. He is most abstemious, although he has an excellent digestion. His private physician, Dr. Giuseppe Lapponi, has been heard to say that he himself eats more at one meal than the holy father eats in a week.

Every day, unless indisposed, some one is received in private audience. These audiences are usually for the cardinal prefects of the congregations, the patriarchs, archbishops and bishops who are in Rome at the time, and distinguished personages.

When the weather is fine, the pope generally walks or drives in the garden. He is earried out of his apartments to the gate in a sedan-chair by the liveried "sediarn," or chair-porters; or, it he goes out by the small door known as that of Paul V., the carriage awaits him there, and he gets in with the Cameriero Segreto Partecipante, who is always a mousignor. It is well to say here, for the benefit of non-Catholies, that "monsignori" are not necessarily bishops, nor even consecrated priests, the title being really a secular one. Two noble guards of the corps of 50 gentlemen known under that name ride beside the carriage doors.

During the great heat of summer the pope after saying mass, goes into the garden about nine in the morning, and spends the whole day there, receiving every one in the garden pavilion as he would in the vatican. He dines there, too, and rests afterwards guarded by the gendarmes on duty, to whom he generally sends a measure of good wine -anothersurvival of a country custom; and in the cool of the day he again gets into his carriage, and often does not return to the vatican till after sunset, toward the hour of Ave Maria.

In the evening, about an hour laterat "one of the night," according to old Roman computation of time-he attends at the recitation of the rosary, or evening prayers, by Mgr. Mazzolini, his private chaplain, and he requires his immediate attendants to assist also. He then retires to his room, where he reads, studies or writes verses, and at about ten o'clock he cats a light supper. 1 or San Francisco.

OMAHA'S BIG FAIR. Work Begins for the Trans-Mississippl

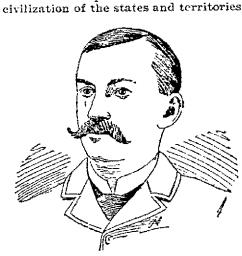

Exposition of 1898. The trans-Mississippi congress, which met in Omaha November 25, last, adopted resolutions unanimously concurred in by delegates present from the trans-Mississippi states, locating the proposed trans-Mississippi exposition in 1898 at Omaha.

From that day leading men in Omaha and the congressional delegation from Nebraska have been busily engaged in pushing preliminary work incident to a full organization of working forces. The exposition will not be, strictly speaking, an Omaha enterprise. The articles which were adopted at an enthusiastic mass meeting of Omaha citizens recently contemplate an exposition of all the products, industries and of the United States west of the Mississippi river, and also such exhibits as may be provided in the United States, in any state of the union or any foreign country, for the purpose particularly of exhibiting to the world the products and capabilities of said states and territories. The articles provide that the exposition shall be opened in June and closed in November, 1898. The responsibility for the success of the enterprise must therefore devolve upon the vast empire embracing the western and Rocky mountain states.

The people of Omaha and Nebraska, however, are determined that the project shall be pushed to a successful issue. It was left to them to take the initiative and to put the machinery in motion. To this task the citizens of Omaha have addressed themselves with energy and enthusiasm. The corporation is organized with a capital stock of $1,000,000, with shares at ten dollars, there being a proviso that when $10,000of the stock shall have been subscribed business shall be commenced. At a recent meeting nearly $11,000 was subscribed by those present within a few minutes and strong committees were named to secure further subscriptions A board of eleven directors, as provided was named, among them being the active and influential business men of the city. This board elected as their president G. W. Wattles, and as secretary John A. Wakefield.

How Treasure Is Transported in China-We have heard much, especially of late, of the diverting of public treasure to private gain by Chinese officials of all ranks, and the pitiable evidence of it in the failure of the Chinese army and navy to be ready for the inevitable struggle with Japan is too recent and convincing to be disputed, but on the other hand, we can only wonder at the power of this law of responsibility which, in such a land, enables the remotest province to transport its dues to Peking in solid silver, by the simplest means, without loss by the way and without the protection of a single soldier Nothing impresses one more with the absoluteness of this power as applied to transportation than to meet a line of pack-mules, horses, or camels, loaded with silver bullion. The silver is usually confined in rough logs of wood that have been split, hollowed out, and then bound together, and each load is marked with a little flag of imperial yellow stating the amount and destination. That is all the protection there is except the ordinary drivers, who carry no weapons, and are atfended by no guard. In what other land on the face of the globe could the same be done?-Prof. C. M. Cady, in

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness, without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, then laxatives or other remedies are not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative then one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely nsed and gives most general satisfaction

Eighth street, Philadelphia, could not be found in a day's search. The act that he is still alive is a constant wonder to his friends.

In the fall of 1889 he began to suffer indescribable miseries from stone in the bladder. Consulting an eminent physician in Polladelphia, he was told that a surgical operation was necessary. So much did he dread the result, for if unsuccessful it meant death, that he put off the evil day as long as possible. While in this frame of mind he heard of Congressman Helped Mike Out in Dispensing Hospitality.

One of the Massachusetts congressmen lives mar Eoston. He has a beautiful estate, his admiration for which is shared by his coachman, Mike. The other day Mike brought a couple of his Irish friends upon the place and after escorting them around the grounds and showing them the stable ushered them into the hall.

There, somewhat to his surprise, he met his employer, but the latter was determined not to be outdone in hospitality by his coachman. "Bring your friends into the during-room, Mike." he said, and into the dining-room the trio followed him. "Now, my men, of course you can have what you like," he remarked, as he stood by the sideboard: "but I have a drink here that I think you will like. There is a story to it, by the way." he added, "which may interest you. It is called Benedictine, and it is made by monks up on the Atps. They fill a little flask with it and send out their St. Bernard dogs to find travelers who may be overcome by the cold. When a poor, haif-frozens fellow is found he drinks a little of this cordial from the flask and then he is able to follow the dogs to a place of shelter." The men listened to the story in silence. Finally one of them mustered up courage to speak. "Have you any gin?" he asked. "Certainly," said the congressman, as he laid aside the cordial. "Help yourself." The men took a good, substantial drink of the gin and smiled happily over its familiar taste. "That wasn't bad," said one of them. "Now bring on your dog liquor;"-Washington Post.

George L. Wellington Elected Senator by the Maryland Legislature.

George L. Wellington, who has just been elected to succeed Senator Gibson in the United States senate, is known throughout Maryland as one of the most eloquent orators of any party. He was born in Cumberland in 1852, and from the age of 12 has had to rely upon his own resources. He first found employment in a Chesapeake and Ohio canal store. When 15 years old he seured a position in the Second national bank of Cumberland. sequently returning to Chinberland, he became county treasurer for six years. In 1887 he was the republican candidate for state comptroller against Col. Victor L. Baughman, whose majority he reduced to about 5,000. He was a delegate to the national conventions of 1884 and 1888. President Harrison appointed him United States subtreasurer in 1890, a position from which he retired a few months ago with a most admirable record. Lie ran for congress in 1892, but was defeated by Gen. Wilham M. McKaig, who in 1590 had defeated Judge McComas. Last year he was again the candidate for congress, and this time was successful. He has taken but little part in the proceedings of the present session. Mr. Wellington is a protectionist and in anti-free-sileer man.

TWO YOUNG GIRLS DROWNED.

A Very Had Accident at Winterton -Mabel Winters and Maggie Collard Venture on Thin Ice, Which Gives Way Beneath Them-The Rodles Recovered in About an flour,

A very sad drowning accident occurred at Winterton, yesterday afternoon, by which two bright young girls lost their lives and the hearthstones of two families were desolated. The victims of the accident are Mabel, the fourteen-year old The First Ward convention was daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wright held at Monhagen Hose House. Mr. Winters and Maggie, aged thirteen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hyman S. Collard.

The girls attended the Winterton school and after it had been dismissed, yesterday afternoon, ventured out on thin ice that covered a pond that had been formed near the school house by last week's rains. When they were near the centre of the pond the ice gave way and the girls went down in about eight feet of water.

They were powerless to help themselves for the thin ice broke when they tried to support themselves upon ir. Some of their frightened companions rau to summon help, while others tried to rescue the drowning girls, but they were unable to do anything, and before help reached the scene all was over.

Jay, the ten-year-old brother of Mabel Winters, had hold of her hand when the accident occurred, but he did not go through the ice. When the girls rose to the surface the second time he caught hold of his sister's hand and was dragged into the water, but managed to get back on the ice.

The bodies were recovered after they had been in the weter about an hour and all attempts to resuscitate them were futile.

Mr. and Mrs. Winters were in this city, when the accident occurred. and news of their daughter's death was brought them here. Mrs. Winters received the sad tidings while in front of the post office and was almost prostrated by grief. Mabel was their only daughter and Maggie Collard was an only child.

The sad affair has cast a de-p gloom over the entire community and much sympathy is felt for the bereaved family.

WON BY WHISTLING.

Hartley, or rather his wife, had been iving a musical "At Home," and a performance of sifficurs had proved the hit of the evening's entertainment. An hour or so later, the "crowd" having dispersed, Birdy Jackson, Hartley and I were idly discussing the events of the affair in the smoking-room. Jackson and I were stopping over night with our host, being old chums of his, and living some distance out of town.

"No idea you could give us such a ripping performance, Birdy," remarked Hartley; rand when your wife joined in I was perfectly astounded." Jackson laughed softly.

"No, she doesn't do it at all badly," he admitted. "You know, Diel., there's a bit of romance attached to that whistle of hers; in fact, it was the means of bringing our matrimonial desires to an abrupt point at an extremely critical reriod in our courtship.

Harriey gave me a gentle kick. "Then your union had a spice of ro-mance about it?" he said.

"Rather! Unique in the annals of ove-making, I should say. But folks are so confounded incredulous nowndays. I've never attempted to tell the yurn but once, and then I swore I'd never do it again."

Lut he had to on this occasion, and soon began to interest us as follows:

"First of all, you must know, Mr. King"—addressing me—"I'm called Birdy on account of having practiced from earliest infancy a cheap form of musical recreation. Though cuffed as o boy, severely reprimanded for warbling in slack business hours and soundy execrated by the neighbors, I nevertheless persevered.

A year this last cummer I come in for a sum of money, which rendered me a practically wealthy and independent man, and to celebrate my good fortune I threw up my business berth and went into Yorkshire to spend a few weeks with a professional bachelor friend and to idle generally. "While there I was introduced to a (ol. Alton and Lis daughter Evelyn. aged 22, who lived at the Chase, and were intumate friends of my chum. Nice girl she was: plenty of go with-cut being the least fast. In less than a fortnight I was over head and ears in love with her. The subsequent afternoons at the Chase were too hot for tennis. Col. Alton spent them snoozing in his study. Evelyn's elderly comanion and her father's housekeeperfor Mrs. Aiton had been dead some years-nodded in the shade of her facorite eim, and my friend had invariably to leave for an important case before the tea came out. 'Very nice of him, I thought. "Thus thrown together Evelyn and I monopolized the arbor, and I used to amuse her by trilling selections from the operus, (comic and serious), and she would occasionally join in as a kind of fillip to my performances. Though a woman in every respect, she could whis tle. In most of the well-known tunes up to date or pathetically aged, she excolled, owing to the fact that during the winter months for some years past sh Trad always officiated at the plane for the village popular concerts, when the vecal and instrumental items were naturally of an amusing and light order-a times searely high-class, perhals.

"Then came the time when the colonel had to be approached. The old man gave me a prompt and curt refusal. He had other views for his child. tried remonstrance, then dogged persistency, but with no avail. Evelynstood out like a brick. This burst of independence resulted in her immediate banishment to regions unknown to me. under the surveillance of a relative of mature age and experience, and all commonication between us strenuously demed and forestalled. All chances of elopement, even, were reduced to nil. "A few days later I left my Irlend's for Bournemouth, there to recruit my shattered health and think things over quietly. I was crushed for the tone be ing. As I alighted from my cab at the entrance to the North 'liff, where I had taken rooms, an elderly lady camdown the steps. Her face seem d somewhat familiar to me, though I could not at the time recall to round when and where I had seen it before. When she started as she saw me, and somewhat burriedly reentered the hotel, I was further mystified. A thought struck meas I was signing my name in the lotel register of visitors some time later. Two rages back I found an entry: 'Mass Alten and Miss E. Alton ' I ' imbled to it in a second, then. The Idealy lady I and elementered was, un len dealy, Col Allon's sister, who had been staying at th. Chass and lest two days after my arical in the village, and before I knew anytimes of la Iva I had once rased her walling with the colenel, and she na st baccaccegaized me again.

"I remarked on the entry to the eler" in a cosual way, and he voluntioned the reformation that Miss Alten hall, but " tew moments receiously, given notice of her intention to vacate their apartments the next morning. This stag orned me. Then Miss Alton Cothinly and not I now all, and decided on flight as the only safe remedy under the circum tances.

"Not a glampse could I catch of ilselyn. After damer, from a search on the pier I returned to the North Clar. and it disconsclately smoking out on the balcony of my roors in the growing dusk. Alarsi inconser a ly I lapsed into melody, and appropriately comnemal towarble softly: Where Art Though A slight movement on tae bacony above mine, and one window to the left, exceed me to glance up. smile and good It is time to accept spirits take flight. It is time to accept the help offered in Doctor Pierce's Fa-vorite Prescription. It's a medicine which was discovered and used by a prominent physician for many years in all cases of "female complaint" and the nervous dis-orders which arise from it. The "Pre-scription" is a powerful uterine tonic and nervine, especially adapted to woman's delicate wants for it regulates and promotes all the natural functions, builds up, invigorates and cures.

Many women suffer from nervous prostration, or exhaustion, owing to congestion or to disorder of the special functions. The waste products should be quickly got rid of, the local source of irritation relieved and the system invigorated with the "Pre-scription." Do not take the so-called celery compounds, and nervines which only put the nerves to sleep, but get a lasting cure with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

An idea suddenly flashed upon me. Why not try! No sooner thought of than done. Softly I whispered the last lines of 'Whisper and I Shall Hear' 1efrain. A slight shake of the head, and then a rendering of Good by, Sweetheart, Good-by, floated down. Then they were really going away.

"Twelyn, I don't think it's quite proper for you to be standing there," came a voice from within, and which, by straining my ears, I could just overhear. My neart bent wildly, and the girl turned to address her aunt without leaving 'he balcony. "'It's amoust dark nov and I can't stay cooped up all the exening-our

" Where Are You Going To. My Fretty Maid?" I began. There was a momentary panse, and then the answer came in a line of Home. Sweet Home,' from my darling's ups.

"I do wish you would d op that vulgar habit of whistling, again came the voice inside the window.

"But, switte, there's no piano to sing to,' was the somewhat lame axcuse I must do omething, and I can't possibly shock anyone up here." There there was silence once more.

" Where Are You Going To?" was again unlized in reply.

"I was stumped for the minute, but a bar or two of 'Dig Ben' a favorite song of mine, came as a hazardons res one. She understood, bless her! but a lengthy pause intervened before her answer. Love and duty had a hard struggle Then: 'No. Sir: No. Sir: No. Sir: No!' was repeated four times in succession. She refused, then! But why so emphatically? The earliest Waterloo was 7-15, and we should be easily tracked and our mtentions frustrated in consequence, if we left it until then. I consulted my watch. It was 9:15. The night trun up left at 10:29. Oh, Why Should We Wait THI To-morrow?' went up without lelay. 'All's Well' from above soon settled that question satisfactorily, but was followed immediately by a few bars of 'Braushaw's Guide' ditty. I krew what she vanted, so, after a slight hesitation, I warbled: "Come Into the Gurden, Mand, and chirped ten times. Hope on, dear lived one, we shall meet again, from Dream Faces,' proved that I was clearly understood, and then she turned to address

"By 9,45 I had settled up and left instructions that my heavy baggage, fortunately not unpacked, would be called or sent for in the course of a week or less, dangling an old telegram form in my hand as I did so, to give color to my hasty departure. At ten prompt I picked up Evelyn under the pines in the hotel gardens, and, with a dressing bag and a small Glad-tone between us, wall ed it to the station and eventually reached London safely, early in the morning. I put her in one hotel, where I knew she would be safe, with strict igjunctions not to venture out till fluat fixed everything up for the ceremony. and went myself to another. Searcely had he concluded than away from another quarter of the house came the answering chorus of "I'm coming," from the negro melody, "Poor Old Joe." Half a minute later in strolled Mrs. Jackson and Hartley's wife.

Birdy winked knowingly at us. "Fve just been felling them how you were practically woold and won by whistling, my dear," he remarked to his wife, "and they want another tune before we turn in." Evelyn blushed. "No, sir," etc., she

"For five years, I was a great sufferer from a most persistent oblood disease, none of the various medicines I took being of any help whatever. Hoping that change of climate would benefit one. I went to Cuba, to Florida, and then to Sections Suring, or and then to Shaatoga Springs, where I remained some time drinking the waters. But all was no use. At last, being advised by several friends to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, I began taking it, and very soon in ordiber suits were manifest. A RIGHT START.

The Child is Lucky Who Gets the Not Wealth or Position Alone Means "Starting Right"-Health Counts

for Something. When a child is born to very wealthy parents, we are inclined to say, " what a start in life it has." If it is a girl, the father may give a bridal present of a million dollars. If a boy, the father may take him in partnership, and give him many millious. But what does all this amount to if the family history shows that there is a marked tendency to the development of serious disease? What comfort, if one expects that every slight cold may terminate in consumption; or every nervous pain indicate approaching nervous prostration, or even insanity? Wealth cannot make happiness when pain is present, and the shadow of approaching disease always hovering near.

Happy is the child who inherits a sound constitution. He laughs at a little cold, and does not mind a darting pain or two. But, alas, many of us inherit a tendency to weak lungs, an inability to endure exposure, or some weakness of the nervous system. Yet, with a perfectly sound ancestry, we may still suffer from all these and other complaints.

It is a great gift to have a strong nervous system. Neuralgia, sciatica, nervous dyspepsia, inability to concentrate the mind, sleeplessness, and nerrousness are symptoms of weak nerves. Opiates and other narcotics, do not strengthen nerves: they weaken, debilitate. To be sure they may quiet a temporary pain, but the real cause, which is one of weakness, remains.

Weak nerves call for food and nerve tonics. The hypophosphites are generally acknowledged to be the best nerve tonics. They tone up the whole nervous system, and every part of the body responds. Cod-liver oil supplies a valuable food to all the tissues; while the medicinal agents which naturally exist in this oil exert their good effects also. Scott's Emulsion is a combination of the best cod-liver oil and the purest hypophosphites. It is called an emulsion, because the oil is emulsified or digested. Hence it is more acceptable to invalids, and all those who do not have very strong digestive powers. One dose of Scott's Emulsion may not quiet pain, but one bottle will often so strengthen the nervous system that no pain will be present to quiet.

Nearly twenty-five years ago the proprietors of Scott's Emulsion discovered a process of emulsifying Cod-liver Oil, so as to remove from it almost entirely its obnoxious fishy taste and smell, and at the same time increasing its food and remedial properties. They found also that by combining the Hypophosphites with it that they added still further to its power. Since that time thousands of imitations have come into the field, but the original has never been equalled.

A Perfect and Thoroughgoing Military Organization.

THE GERMAN ARMY.

Every German Is Liable to Service After He Reaches the Age of Seventeen -Method of Recruiting and Maintaining the Army.

The German emperor may declare war, though such declaration is subject to the consent of the federal couneil. If, however, the country is invaded, then what the emperor says prevails, without federal ratification.

An American may think that the young kaiser talks a good deal about his function as war lord, and takes a good deal of room in discharging it, but, by the imperial constitution of 1871, after the Franco-Prussian war had ended in German unity, the emperor is rightfully the first soldier in the empire, the entire forces of which, in war and peace, are under his command. It is his to see that the army is kept in fighting trim, and his to secure this end by imperial legislation. The Bavarian army is, however, a distinctive contingent, by itself, though practically coordinated and subordinated in the imperial army system. Saxony and Wurtemburg, also, preserve a certain military identity, in that each puts up an army corps for itself.

It is provided that the entire land forces of the empire shall consist of 21 army corps.

Every German is liable to service. No substitute is allowed. No one escapes unless a member of a sovereign house, and he would deem it proper to serve voluntarily. So the army of Germany is the people's army. When a German boy has finished his 17th year he finds a drill master waiting for him. When he puts away the tools of war for good he is 46 years old. Dut practically his service will begin in his 20th and close in his 39th year. During this period he will serve actively three years in the ranks, four in the reserve, five in the first levy of the Lanwehr, then, until he is 39, in the second levy of the Landwehr, and finally until he is 45 in the Landsturm. A young fellow, however, of means and education, who bears all expenses and passes an examination gets off with one year's service in the ranks. The duty of the Landsturm is to take part in the defense of the country. Neither the Landsturm nor the second levy of the Landwehr is called out in peace, but the men in the Ersatz (relief) reserve share in annual exercises covering 20

The institution of the one-year volunteers is an advantageous exception to what an American might call a military despotism.

Under this exception, young men of professional inclinations not only receivethe military training that prepares them for duty in the reserve, but also continue their studies with less detriment to their educaton than if they devoted three valuable years to a soldier's life exclusively. But a fellow must pay for this one-year privilege, his legitimate military expenses amounting to from $350 to $500.

The military forces of the several German states are administered through their own war ministries, which are all subject to the Prussian war ministry. To control this vast military system there are, besides the war ministries, the emperor's military cabinet, the commission for the defense of the country, the general staff, the head of which is directly responsible to the emperor, and the great general staff, which in the most scientific sense is intrusted with the defense of the em

Generally speaking, an army corps is recruited in the district where it is garrisoned, but the Prussian guard corps is recruited throughout the country. In the case of Alsace-Lorriane, the province taken from the French, Germany discreetly takes no chances of disaffection among her troops there garrisoned. The men she raises in this province of French autocedents are soldiers of unquestioned loyalty.

The cavalry of the German army is the only branch which has been increased since the French war. Its strength is 13 regiments, or 455 squadrons. France has 45 squadrons less, but of field matteries she has 45 more. Germany's neld batteries is smaller than that of any standing army.

As regards uniform, the infantry, artillery, dragoons and pioneers wear the helmet, the officers the "kneppi," the Uhlans the "czapka," the hussars the fur cap, the cuirassiers the steel helmet. The cairass nowadays is only worn on parade. The infantry coat is dark blue. In color, style and equipment there is much dissimilarity in the German army, but there is complete uniformity in marks of rank distinction.

A German officer finds a private income a useful adjunct. A second lieutenant's monthly income is about $30. When a man has nothing he may perhaps get a stipend from special funds or from the emperor. A captain of the first class draws arountly about $1,250; a major or lieuteant colonel, $1,650; a colonel, $2,250. There is also an allowance for outside lodgings. A young officer cannot possibly live up to his social station if he has a family to support. If a young officer wants to marry he must get the emperor's permission, and satisfactority prove that his income is at least (in Prussia) $450 a year. The future wife of an officer must beworthy the army--she must be of unblemished reputation, and be of a family of unquestioned respectability.

There are pensions for the old and infirm, though no age limitation exists as with us. When a German recruit takes the oath the act is made as solemn as possible. No criminal is allowed to wear the uniform of the German army. A German soldier's pay is between seven and eight cents a day, and he is allowed one and two-thirds pounds of bread. - Chicago Inter Ocesa.

OUR WATER/SUPPLY.

A LETTER FROM COMMISSIONER O. S. FELLOWS-

The Highland Lake Extension Plan Discussed at Length-The Advantages Claimed for it over other Plans That Have Been Proposed -Ten Reasons for Preferring It Given,

EDITORS ABGUS:-

Survey has shown that there are twelve square miles of watershed that are available for increasing our

The Croes plan takes the water from only one half of this watershed. and shuts off most, if not all, of the other half, so that it never will be available. This and the cost are the objectionable features of this plan-

Mr. Rogers and I are unwilling to adopt any plan that limits our future supply. The plan adopted now should settle the water question for all time, but it is not pecessary that the work should all be done at the present time, nor will the present revenue of the water works stand the

Twelve square miles of watershed will give enough water for a population of 80,000 people; therefore it is not necessary to get all the water now, but whatever is done now abouid be a part of a system that later will include the whole available

Eupply. In the Highland Lake plan we divide our existing system and future supply into two distinct parts, one of which is a high pressure system and che other a low pressure system. We propose at the present time to make all the use possible of the high pressure system, and to leave the other system for future use when needed. without in any way limiting future

Survey has shown that 51/4 square miles of the 12 that are available can be drained into Highland Lake, and the remaining 6% square miles give an increase of 200 per cent., will nearly treble our present supply and will be ample for double our present population.

This plan runs into Highland Lake ten times its present supply and will keep it full most of the year. The water will run from Highland Lake into Monhagen, keeping it fu'l all the year. It makes the water of both reservoirs as good as it can be by any possible plan, and it is the only way that the water of Highland Lake can be improved, as in no other way can it have a running stream through it, yet at the same time Monhagen is equally benefitted.

The water in the catch basins will not become stagnant as is stated by the opponents of the plan, but on the contrary will be purified as nature siways purifies freshet water. All freshet water contains segiment and the water will be held in these catch basins so that it can settle and clear, just as it does in the pool of a stream, and the water taken into Highland Lake will have less sedithan ordinary freshet water.

It is not proposed to let the catch basins remain full, but it is intended to carry the water as fast as possible into Highland Lake, and it will not have time to become etagnant, as it will be constantly fresheaed by the full flow of the Shawangunk Kill: and during the summer months they will be empty as the pipe will carry the full supply.

These catch basins are essential to any plan that contemplates using all the water. In the case of the flood, which we have just had, they would have held back 100,000,000 gailons to be drawn off gradually just as soon as the flood of the stream was less than the carrying capacity of the pipe, while with the Groes' plan, which does not include the catch basins, all in excess of the carrying capacity of the ditch would go down the stream and be lost.

In my judgment more water could be carried through the pipe line by using the catch basins to hold back the water and so prolong the flow than could be carried through the open side hill ditch of the Oroes'

The carrying capacity of the pipe cannot be questioned, as we have the authority of several good engineers, and there is no use putting in a pipe that is larger than necessary to carry all the water that can be ob talued.

When the population of our city has doubled, this plan contemplates again doubling the supply by taking into Monbagen Lake all the water that can be obtained from the remaining 62 square miles, (the Binnewater), which cannot be done by the Croes' plan.

As I stated a year ago: "I want the best possible plan obtainable for our chy." I have given the questi in most careful study and I think that every statement that I have made Las been verified.

In my letters, last year, I said to the people "That our water supply have found Hood's Sarsaparilla to be would last another year, and that I the best medicine that I have ever did not think $150,000 would build taken. Before using it we were the Croes' plan." Vo have since troubled with weakness, and had learned from Mr. Grace' own letters that tired feeling, but we soon found that the $150,000 does not itelude the water right. You have passed through | since that time we have used Bood's a year of the worst drought ever | Sareaparilla as a family medicine." known, when all surrounding cities were short of water, yet you have had an abundance, while the quality was equal to that of previous years, yet it should be, and by our plan will be, vastly improved.

about equal, and that now is the time to increase the supply. The surveys of the past year have led me to believe that Highland Lake extension plan is the best possible obtainable for Middletown for the following reasons:

First-It takes the best water that it is possible for Middletown to get, Second-It is the only way that both Highland and Monhagen Lakes can have a stream of water constantly running through them, and so make the water of both as good as it is possible for Middletown to have.

Third-It leaves available for future use all the water that can ever be drained into Monhagen Lake.

Fourth-This system can be built and utilized the quickest, as it is the most simple to construct,

Fifth-It has ample storage for more than a year's supply.

Six h-It can be constructed for $75,000 less than would be required for the Croes' plan, and this sum put out on interest would amount to more than would be required to complete our plan of taking the 6% miles of watershed when it is required.

Seventh-It enables the system to be maintained without a direct tax. Eighth-It will make possible a reduction in rates much sooner than if a larger sum is spent.

Ninth-It will be less expensive to maintain, as there is no open ditch on a side hill to wash our, and no third recervoir to keep in order.

Tenth-There will be Lo danger of pollution from the sewerage of Mount Hope.

We wish it clearly understood that the Highland Lake plan is only part of the largest system that can ever be obtained, as it contemplates when more water is wanted taking into Monhagen Like all the water that can be drained into it. And to make sure of the water rights we would at the present time buy up both the Shawangunk Kill and the Binnewater, so that they never could be diverted from Middlecowa.

It is a part of the largest possible system, the only plan that will make good the water of both reservoirs, and give the most water for the least present expense.

O. S. Fellows. Feb. 10th, 1896. Since writing the above letter the Board has ordered a fuller report rum Mesers, Cross and Olney as to the best plan for Middletown to

This meets with my most hearty approval, for if I am wrong I want to be proved wrong before the money is spent, and not after it is lost. Still I want the people to know my reasons for approving the Highland Lake extension plan, reserving the right to support a better plan if such can be O.S. Fellows.

A WRECK ON THE O. AND W.

An Engine and Fourteen Cars Derailed at Liberty Falls.

The O. and W. had a wreck at Liberty Falls at 1:15 o'clock, this moining, where fourteen cars and an engine on train 36, Conductor Somers, were derailed.

The train was being drawn by two engines and when it reached the point of a switch this side of Liberty falls, the second engine No. 192 jumped the track, pulling fourteen cars with it. The cause of the derailing was found to be a piece of iron, evidently a connection rod of the ash pan of an engine which had become wedged between the point of the switch and the stock rail.

The cars were not badiy damaged and the Middletown wreckers were summened and were soon at work clearing the wreck,

The passengers on the Sullivan County Express were transferred and the train was only half an hour late in leaving this city, this morn-

No one was injured.

the Bearing in the Herman Walzenegger Case Again Adjourned.

On December 23 ', Herman Waizenegger, proprietor of a saloon at the corner of East avenue and Fulton street, was arrested upon a charge of keeping a disorderly house.

For some reason the trial was adjourned until Jan. 13th, but counsel for both sides were busy with Supreme Court cases at that time, and the trial was again adjourned until to-day, Feb. 11th. The jury had been subrocke!, but counsel again adjourned the case until March 11th.

In the meantime one of the principal witnesses against the defendant has moved to Pennsylvania, and the others will in all probability "forget" that they ever saw anything disorderly about the place before the trial
